I live to help people reinvent themselves and escape whatever life or their childhood has masked them with. As an actor my desire is to strip away anything standing in the way of me and the performance, adding something valuable to your great escape in a two hour film, or that invaluable sought after five minutes that changes everything.

God, through a series of miracles, called me to a relationship with him that was not religious but supernatural. And I've put that relationship to use on the street, with troubled youth, the homeless, prison ministry and as a senior pastor. Lots of miraculous stories sometimes dealing with rough characters, I've been lovingly referred to as Badd Pastor.

All that pain and suffering produced years of improv, stand up, public speaking and a theatrical personality, with a true passion for acting.

What I am most excited and passionate about is the love and grace God pours out on me every day so I can give it away to others. For this I am eternally and humbly grateful.

Aside from acting and ministry, I am currently writing and producing a series called "the handout" and just finished writing a feature film.
